WHO'S AFRAID OF ... SANTA CLAUS?

Where did the jolly old saint with a suit of red begin? Sam Beeson, teacher at American Fork High School, does some snazzy storytelling to answer this question in his new children's book, "Santa's First Flight."

Using whimsical rhymes and the artsy animation of Tom Tolman, Sam takes us back to the days of yore when skeptical town folk offered not cookies, but cold stares. While Santa's travel methods and slight silhouette evolve, his cheer never changes. "Santa's First Flight" is available at www.covenant-lds.com.

GET YOUR ACT TOGETHER

Just when Sara is ready to take a swing at an elite tennis program, a car wreck with the rebellious Colton Pratt sets her world — and his — spinning. Based on the story of Alma the Younger and featuring a cast and crew from

Salt Lake and Utah counties, "Turn Around" follows Colton as he proves he's ready to change.

Produced by Candlelight Media, this made-in-the-valley movie clearly communicates the importance of responsibility. Check out Deseret Book or www.CandlelightMedia.com for info on the DVD.

WINTER WHISPERS

The still of a crisp winter's eve calls for a cup of cocoa, a warm fire and the soothing sounds of classic Christmas favorites. "Mary's Lullaby: Christmas Songs for Bedtime," the second CD in Deseret Book's lullaby series, was originally produced by Utah County resident Scott Wiley for children at bedtime. But this CD has been spotted in cars, children's playrooms and parents' stereos.

Featuring specially arranged and recorded songs from local artists including Mindy Gledhill, Debra Fotheringham and Cherie Call, these traditional tunes with a calming twist will resonate. "Mary's Lullaby: Christmas Songs for Bedtime" is available at Deseret Book.
